DON'T JUST APPOINT. PREPARE.

Your team leaders deserve a strong start.

Stepping into team leadership for the first time can be daunting. Without the right preparation, even your most capable people can feel overwhelmed, uncertain and unsure of what to do.

It's not just about telling them who or what they are leading — it's about giving them the tools, knowledge and practical support to know how to lead.

Give your team leaders the best possible start. Invest in their leadership capability before the 2027 school year.

Build their confidence to lead with impact.

Establish clear expectations and routines.

Create stronger, more cohesive teams.

Set them up – and your school – for success.
